‡ Occurs as already a Knight in August 1486. Gairdner (ibid) p. 29.

* It is not easy to decide whether the whole of this list from Sir James Awdeley to Sir Rauf Langforth is, or is not, a homogeneous list of knights created at the same time, viz. :-At the battle of Stoke. Some patent discrepancies are noticed in the footnotes. In Harl MS. 5177, the list is arranged in a different order, viz. :- (1) Those who have paid their fees to the College of Arms; (2) Those who have only paid part; (3) Those who have not paid at all.

[?1487]. These three following came from High Almaine to see this realm and to receive the order of knighthood of the King, as they did.

* After the name of Sir Lewis Carleon, the MS. (Cott. Claud C. III.) gives the trickings of twelve shields without names. The conjectural identification of the bearers of these arms is given here on the authority of Metcalfe alone ("Book of Knights" pp. 22-3). The only reason for including these twelve knights under the date ? 1492, Oct., is the fact that they follow Sir Lewys Carleon without any indication of break in the MS. The same is the case with the succeeding eleven knights.

 AMBROSE JERMIN.
 LEONARD CHAMBERLEYN.

* Harl 6063. Cott, Claud C. III. Harl 5177. This has been printed in the Diary of Henry Machyn (Camden Soc. o. s. 42, p. 334), from an MS. in the College of Arms 1 y. f. 74.

† A late hand has inserted in the MS., Harl 5177, Lord Mayor Garret. This is undoubtedly incorrect, as Sir William Garret, or Gerard, was not Lord Mayor of London till 1555. For the evidence of the existence of a Lord Fitzgerald Garret, see Acts of the Privy Council, New Series, Vol. IV., pp. 31, 388.

* In the Gazette, dated for May 16th, 1792 (p. 317), there is an account of George III. investing Sir William Sidney Smith with the insignia of the Royal Swedish Order of the Sword. The Gazette adds in a footnote, "not knighted on this occasion, that ceremony having been performed by the late Swedish King in the field under the royal banner." Townend considers him entitled to the rank of a Knight Bachelor of England in consequence of this recognition of his foreign knighthood having been thus marked at a date prior to the Regulation of 1812, relative to Foreign Orders. I cannot follow the reasoning, and in accordance with the rigorous plan of the present book I have omitted him and all other such foreign made knights from my lists whether they had or had not obtained the royal licence to accept such foreign order or knighthood.

For this same reason I have omitted Peter Francis Bourgeois, a member of the Royal Academy of London, who on the 16th April, 1791, received the King's allowance of the knighthood conferred upon him by the King of Poland by diploma, dated at Warsaw, 16th February, 1791. Townend on the contrary ranks him as a knight bachelor of England

* The London Gazette of 1821, May 5, contains the following notice:—

Carlton House, 1821, May 4.

The following is a copy of an order from His Majesty to the Marquess of Winchester, Groom of the Stole, which in obedience to His Majesty's commands has been communicated by his Lordship to the Lords of the Bedchamber:

"The honour of Knighthood having in two recent instances been surreptitiously obtained at the levée, His Majesty, for the purpose of effectually guarding against all such disgraceful practices in future, has been pleased to direct that henceforth no person shall be presented to His Majesty at the levée by the Lord in Waiting, to receive the honour of Knighthood, unless His Majesty's pleasure shall have been previously signified in writing to the Lord in Waiting by one of His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State."

The two individuals who practised this disgraceful trick on the King were Francis Columbine Daniel and Charles Aldis.

Townend considered that as a matter of course they were not to be included in the list of Knights. I cannot see on what principle, for, however obtained from the King, the honour, if once conferred, remains until the death or degradation of the recipient.

Index

General Rules followed in the construction of this index.

- (1) Sovereigns of England are indexed under their ruling title.
- (2) Princes of Wales who succeeded to the throne are indexed under their ruling title as sovereigns. If they did not succeed to the throne they are indexed under WALES.
- (3) Princes of the Blood Royal of England are indexed under their titles, e.g., Cumberland, Cambridge, etc., etc.
- (4) Peers of England, Scotland or Ireland are indexed under their family names. If any such peers occur in different parts of this work with different titles, representing their successive advancement in the peerage, they are here indexed consistently only under their final title, that is under the title which represents their highest step in the peerage.
- (5) Foreign sovereigns are indexed under the countries over which they ruled.
- (6) Foreign nobles are indexed under their title, not under their family name.
- (7) Purely Mediæval names are indexed under the forms adopted by Palgrave in the index to the "Parliamentary Writs." In the text, the spelling of such names has been left in every case in the form in which it occurs in the original authority, whatever that authority may be. As a rule there will be no difficulty in identifying the form given in the index with that given in the text.
- (8) Wherever there is an admixture of mediæval and modern forms of one and the same name, all the forms are brought together in the index under one head; the various forms are printed first in capitals, and all the items under those capitals are recessed in order not to disturb the strict alphabetical sequence. This is the plan adopted in the Parliamentary "Return of Members" and is the only feasible plan where such bewildering varieties of spelling occur in one and the same book.
- (9) Purely modern names, that is where there is no admixture of mediæval names, are left in their exact modern forms.
- (10) Compound names are indexed under the first element of the compound.
